THE MYSTERIOUS HOUSE

Once upon a time, in a small town, there was a mysterious house at the end of the street. It was said to be haunted, and nobody dared to go near it. Legend had said that a wicked (bad) witch had lived there long ago and cursed anyone who entered.

One day, a group of brave friends named Emma, Jack, and Lily decided to explore the house. They were attracted by the stories and wanted to prove that the rumours were just tales.

As they cautiously (carefully) approached the house, they noticed broken windows and strange sounds coming from the house. The front door opened, inviting them to step inside. The friends hesitated but, driven by curiosity, they entered the haunted house.

Inside, the air was cold, and the rooms were filled with spiderwebs. The walls seemed to whisper, and the floorboards creaked under their feet. Suddenly, a gust of wind slammed the door shut, trapping them inside.

As they explored further, strange things started happening. Objects flew through the air, and ghostly figures appeared and vanished (disappeared), leaving the friends scared. They realized they were caught in the witch's curse.

Emma, Jack, and Lily had to work together to break the curse and escape the haunted house. They discovered a hidden diary that revealed the witch's tragic past. With the information, they performed a ritual to lift the curse.

The house trembled, and a bright light covered them. When it faded, they found themselves outside, free from the haunted house. They were relieved and thankful to have survived the scary adventure.

From that day onwards, the friends never forgot the horrors they experienced. They knew they had ruled their fears and became known as the brave heroes who faced the haunted house. The story of their adventure lived on, warning others to stay away from the cursed house.
